

Jack Ryder sport! Raptor fun!

Jack is a 24 year-old man, a native who lives in downtown Toronto. He has a pretty good software developer job. He likes basketball games and he often attend basketball games. As a native, he has already travelled to most of the famous places nearby like Niagara Falls, CN tower, Casa Loma and Toronto zoo etc. Therefore he is more likely to explore the places where he hadn't been to in Toronto. He also enjoys self-driven trips with his friends and has driven to places like blue-mountain and Algonquin. He enjoys these types of locations and wishes to explore more places like them. Therefore some good places for self-driven-trips will be good recommendations for him.

In addition, every year he has a two-week-vacation. He is planning to go on vacation to Europe this year. He will go to France, Italy, UK and Germany, they are all new countries for him to explore. As a result, he is busy in gathering recommendations and making plans for his vacation.

Mike Lee

Mike is a 20-year-old second-year student specializing Computer Science program at the University of Toronto. When he was in high school, he showed a great interest in programming and was admitted to University of Toronto in Grade 12. Currently, he lives in a house just a few blocks away from school with other friends he knows from classes. On weekdays, Mike just spends most of the time studying programming, algorithms and practicing software tools. Over the weekends, he likes to spend some time playing computer games or going to the cinema with his friends for relaxing.

Now it is the end of April. Mike just finished all of his final exams, and his first work term starts at the beginning of May, so he has roughly over one-week vacation. Mike is going to Los Angeles with his childhood best friend because he wants to reminisce about the good old days when they used to be together. However, Mike does not travel frequently and completely knows nothing about Los Angeles. Additionally, he is too bothered to do a detailed travel plan. Therefore, He downloaded Planit and have it to help them customize their own trip. This is their first time in LA, so they would like to visit as many famous attractions in LA as possible and hope Planit would compact their schedule of the trip.

Bob

Bob is a 25 year old graduate student in Toronto. After four years of studying in downtown Toronto, through vacations and going out with friends he has become accustomed to the city. But he spent most of his time during his undergrad years studying and working hard on getting a chance for graduate study from University of Toronto. As the end of his master degree approaches, Bob would really like to give himself a good break which he hasn't had for a good while.

After spending four years of busy urban life, Bob would really enjoy a completely different pace of life for a week or so. Bob wants to get away from such busy city life to pursue a more relaxed, casual way of living without losing its integrity, which led him to choose a small town such as Yellowknife over some resort. He instead on trying to visit as many places as possible per day, Bob would rather spend more time at one place. He really enjoys the town due to its historical background, its fascinating architecture style as well as the fact that it is a simple place with great scenery.
